

Commissioners Adopt Tax Equalization Program

Advertisement Planned For Bids By Firms

By Leonard Randolph
MONROE COUNTY'S tax equalization program got its third legal lease on life yesterday.

Commissioners accepted specifications for new bids on completion of the project. They directed H. Ray Saunders, chief clerk, to advertise for bids once weekly for the next four weeks.

Then they set two important dates: Thursday, July 18 as the closing date for bids on the program and January 1, 1958 as the completion date for the project.

A motion adopting the specifications and other material submitted by L. A. Achterman, county solicitor, was made by Willard Quick and seconded by John R. Lesoine, commission chairman. Quick and Lesoine were the only members of the three-man commission in attendance at the special meeting.

At Monday morning's session minority Commissioner W. Adolph Rake was asked by chairman Lesoine to attend yesterday's meeting. Rake, who had previously refused to take part in the discussion of the assessment project, made several contributions to the talk Monday morning.

Response

In response to that particular question from Lesoine, Rake said: "Well, I don't think it's necessary but if you fellows want me to come, I'll be here." Rake did not attend, however.

Lesoine and Quick then agreed to set July 18 as the deadline for bidding on the project. Commissioners agreed to take the bids under advisement on that date for one or two days of study before awarding the contract or dismissing bidders.

Advertisements for bids will be carried this week, next week, the first and second weeks in July at the suggestion of the solicitor. The law requires only three advertisements in a newspaper, but Achterman pointed out that the county wants to secure as many bids as possible and allow ample time for bidding.

The papers prepared by the solicitor include an agreement, an outline of general conditions of the contract, specifications and the customary performance and labor and material bonds. A form of proposal is also included. This form is to be used by bidders in submitting estimates on cost of completing the reassessment job.

Set down in the agreement are these provisions:
The company (successful bidder) is to furnish materials and perform all work required for completion of mapping and appraisal of all locally-assessable real estate. It is to set up a permanent tax record system which is to be prepared by the commissioners.

All work on the project — with the exception of time for appeals and possible court cases — must be completed "on or before January 1, 1958."

Monthly invoices are to be submitted by the company. They must show services, expenses and percentage of the work completed during the preceding month. The County "agrees to pay company on the basis of 90 percent of such invoices after audit" if they prove correct in the eyes of Commissioners. Such payments are to be continued until 90 percent of the total contract has been paid. Final payment on the contract — if work is fully completed and all provisions are met — is to be due on Jan. 11, 1958 or 10 days after the deadline for work completion.

The following are among the specific requirements set down in the general contract conditions:

Each Bidder
Each bidder must attach a complete list of clients and a summary of work in tax revaluation to agencies of government along with a sheet showing the average number of employees and the bidder's financial responsibility. The successful bidder must carry full public liability and workmen's compensation insurance to protect the county "from all claims of every kind" brought about by "any act or omission" of the bidder or his employees in the execution of the work.

Article six requires the company to use "experienced and competent" personnel for all phases of mapping and appraisal. A professional, licensed Pennsylvania engineer (Please turn to page 5)

Senate Launches Maneuvering

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—The Senate today began unusual parliamentary maneuvering which may determine whether it acts this year on civil right legislation, described by President Eisenhower as the "moderate, decent thing to do."

Shortly after Eisenhower told his news conference the measure did not aim at "persecution of anybody," Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) made the first move in the Senate to hasten debate on the bill. The showdown on his strategy is expected tomorrow.

THE OL' WATERHOLE IS DRY—There once was a mournful song, about a cowpoke who wandered all day long, in search of a pool of cool, clear water. He was the upright type. Never touched stuff he hadn't oughter. Well, yesterday, the time was ripe—what with all that humidity—for a long, cool drink of pearly dew from the watering trough of the WCTU. So this cowpoke (name's Jeffrey Bush of N. Fifth St.) feelin' hot and dry and completely beat, stopped by the trough with his favorite hoss. It's been so long since the trough was used that its original purpose has been badly abused. City tourists, suave and dapper, use it as a depository for the candy wrapper. But nary a drop of water could Jeff find—not a hair of the dog for the totetaling kind. Which all goes to show, if you look at it right, that a simple drink could make things bright. Jeff and his sturdy steed still can't see why the whole darn town had to turn up "dry."

Japanese Leader Arrives In Capital

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Japanese Prime Minister Kishi arrived for an official visit today. President Eisenhower welcomed him at a White House policy talk and later played golf with him. Both expressed confidence the visit would improve U.S.-Japanese relations.

The 60-year-old Premier arrived on Eisenhower's plane, Columbine III, from San Francisco. A 19-gun salute boomed out and a delegation headed by Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles greeted Kishi.

Black Suit
Dressed in a black summer-weight suit, the Japanese leader flashed a broad smile and said he expected his "frank and friendly discussions" with U.S. officials would "help to prepare the way for a new era of Japanese-American relations."

Eisenhower, at almost the same moment, was telling a news conference he and Dulles had long looked forward to Kishi's visit.

"We believe," the President said, "that great opportunities are opening up for a great increase in understanding with our friends the Japanese, to bring our interests into closer coordination as we pursue policies of the world."

No announcement was made of the political topics up for discussion between the Japanese and American leaders. However, nuclear tests, trade with Red China and the future of such territories as Okinawa and the Bonin Islands presumably were prominent among them.

House Frees Government On Project

HARRISBURG, June 19 (AP)—The House today approved a bill designed to free the U.S. government's hand in construction of a proposed dam across the Delaware River between New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The measure eliminates a provision of the interstate compact between the two states which calls for construction of the dam at Wallpack Bend.

Contention

The U.S. government contended the statute as it is on the books would "hinder the action of the Congress of the United States in authorizing and providing for the development control and utilization of the water resources of the Delaware River."

The measure now goes back to the Senate for concurrence on minor amendments.

It would also have to be approved by the New Jersey Legislature and the Congress to become effective.

The House passed the bill 183-1, with Rep. Strauss (R-Columbia) the lone dissenter.

Hoffa Fails To Win Late Postponement Of Legal Trial

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Jimmy Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union, went on trial on bribery and conspiracy charges today, after failing to get a last-minute postponement.

Efforts to delay the trial will be renewed in the U.S. Court of Appeals tomorrow, when defense attorneys will argue for an order forcing the trial court to grant a week's postponement.

Edward Bennett Williams, Hoffa's lawyer, maintains he hasn't had time to prepare an adequate defense.

Charge
Hoffa, with Hyman I. Fischbach, a Miami attorney, is accused of plotting to plant a spy on the staff of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. The committee has just completed a sensational investigation of Teamsters Union affairs.

A great deal is at stake in the proceedings before U.S. Dist. Judge Burnita S. Matthews. If the 44-year-old Hoffa is convicted his career as a labor leader could be ended. An acquittal might catapult him into the presidency of the Teamsters, the largest union in country. Dave Beck, accused by the Senate group of using some $300,000 in Teamster funds for personal gain, says he's retiring from the presidency this year.

Williams claimed today some evidence against Hoffa was obtained through wiretapping.

The government promptly presented a denial from Brownell that there had been any wiretapping and asked that the subpoena for the attorney general's appearance be quashed.

Powerful Labor Leader Convicted

Pittsburgh, June 19 (AP)—

One of western Pennsylvania's most powerful labor leaders was convicted today in U.S. District Court on charges of violating the Hobbs Antiracketeering Act.

Nicholas Strone, president of Common Laborers Local 1058 and president of the Western Pennsylvania Laborers Council was found guilty by a jury which deliberated nearly five hours.

Cooling Breezes, Rain Bring Relief From

Eight-Day Wave Of Heat In Pennsylvania

By The Associated Press
COOLING breezes accompanied by rain and wind swept across parched Pennsylvania Wednesday ending an eight-day heat wave.

The welcome relief came on the crest of a cold front that moved in from the middle west.

It was welcome relief indeed for Pennsylvanians had sweltered in 90-degree and above weather for eight weary, humid days. Records fell and tempers flared. Highways were jammed with those seeking cooler climes in the mountains and at the seashore. Crops wilted and state officials watched the dry soil with apprehension.

For the state's millions the influx of colder air meant above all a chance to sleep in comfort for the first time in more than a week.

In sharp contrast to the temperature readings of the late morning Wednesday, the mercury dropped to the mid or lower 80s as the cold front blanketed the state from West to East.

Ike Opens Door For Test Suspension

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—President Eisenhower issued a cautious welcome to Russia's new disarmament proposals today.

Eisenhower told a sweltering, semi-shirtless news conference he would be "perfectly delighted" to try a suspension of atomic weapons tests while efforts to achieve a permanent ban continued.

But he added quickly that he'd accept such a short-term agreement with the Russians only on condition that each country knew exactly what the other was doing.

The President's comments indicated a possible major change in U.S. policy.

Privately

State Department officials have said privately this country would agree to suspend A-weapon testing only as part of a "first step" disarmament agreement which also would halt manufacture of weapons under a cheetproof mutual inspection system.

Eisenhower himself said recently he would oppose a halt in testing of nuclear weapons until there was a firm agreement they would never be used in war. Asked if this applied to the new Soviet proposal for a two-or-three-year suspension of testing, he replied quickly:

"Oh, no. No, no. I would be perfectly delighted to make some satisfactory arrangement for temporary suspension of tests while we could determine whether we couldn't make some agreements that would allow it to be a permanent arrangement."

He said at another point that he felt a ban on weapon manufacture as part of a "package" agreement to suspend tests. But he added that he wasn't "committing myself beyond recall" on this point.

In general, the President described Russia's overtures as "hopeful signs" and promised "the most earnest and sympathetic study" to see if they go beyond broad "generalization."

Several hours after the news conference the White House in response to questions undertook to explain what the President had meant about suspending tests.

Press secretary James Hagerty said the President's comment "did not imply and was not intended to imply that we would consider suspension of tests in isolation"—meaning isolation from other points of disarmament agreement.

Humphrey Opposes Extreme Move

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey agreed today with a Senate inquisitor's statement that a prolonged further rise in federal spending could send the country "over the precipice of financial disaster."

The warning was sounded by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), who as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee grilled Humphrey for two hours on government costs and dollar depreciation. Their sparring, on the second day of the Senate probe into the Eisenhower administration's monetary policies, was sharp but good-humored.

Humphrey agreed that a prolonged climb in government outlays is one of the inflationary forces which, if not controlled, could bring "extremely serious" consequences.

Similar hazards would result, he testified, if inflation continued to nibble away the buying power of the dollar at the recent rate of two cents a year. At some point impossible to forecast, he said, a sudden loss of confidence can spread over the country "like a blanket."

But the secretary disputed Byrd's assertion that this year's congressional economy drive has been waged "in the face of strongest opposition from the President of the United States."

"I have never seen anybody more dedicated to finding an answer to these problems—nor anybody who worked harder at it—than the President," Humphrey protested.

11 Killed As Ships Crash

BREST, France, June 19 (AP)—Two oil tankers groping through fog suddenly collided in a flaming crash off the Brittany coast early today. Eleven men were believed killed.

The ships were the American-owned Stony Point, registered in Liberia, and the Greek tanker Ioannis.

More than 50 men in the crews were reported rescued and 27 survivors of the Stony Points Italian crew were brought here tonight. Twenty were hospitalized, 10 of them in serious condition.

Survivors said the Ioannis crashed into their vessel amidships and flames roared through the tanker. Flaming oil spread over the sea.

Authority Plans For Improved Water Supply

STROUDSBURG COUNCIL approved a $750,000 water supply expansion program drawn up by its Municipal Authority last night.

Authority members immediately drew up plans to contract for detailed engineering specifications for the project. When it is completed—sometime in 1958, the Authority said last night—the expansion will provide for an additional 625,000 gallons of water per day at the Stokes Mill area.

It will open the door to a golden era of water supply which will give Stroudsburg residents up to three million gallons of water daily out of Brodheads Creek, Russell Hughes, Authority chairman said.

Present capacity of the water system is 1,250,000 gallons daily. In presenting its expanded project to Council, the Authority used a plan drawn by Albright and Friel, Philadelphia engineers in cooperation with local engineer Edward C. Hess.

Authority members said they have been "working on the present plan since the 1955 flood when we promised the people we would give them a better water supply than ever before."

Foremost item on the expansion program's agenda will be the installation of a new filtering plant at the Stokes Mill site.

Primary departure from present techniques of supply will be the eventual construction and location of water mains in a circular-network basis all through the borough. This will eliminate mains which now run in one direction or dead-end locations only and will thus solve most pressure difficulties experienced in the latter type of main construction.

New main lines will be installed in five major areas in and around Stroudsburg. Water supply areas in which service will be sharply increased will include the borough proper and other areas adjoining it.

Additional mains will be laid through Stroudsburg and to South Stroudsburg, out West Main St. and Dreher Ave. to Tanite Road and down the Lackawanna Trail area.

Additional Main
An additional 12-inch main will be laid from the filter station to the reservoir. This will give the system two large mains instead of the single one now in use.

The Authority has included construction of a "standpipe" north of Dreher Avenue as part of its overall plan. A standpipe is used for the storage of water and for the maintenance of constant water pressure in home pipes.

The Dreher Ave. storage pipe will be 50 feet high and it will hold 650,000 gallons of water. Authority members said last night. It would be used to store water and maintain pressure for home consumers in the West Stroudsburg section.

Last night's action by Council was taken in a joint Council-Authority meeting. It came in the form of a resolution authorizing the Municipal Authority to add to the water system and to take all the necessary legal steps to create its expanded program for the community.

Immediately after the joint meeting, Authority members convened alone to talk over first steps toward completion of plans, specifications and floating of a bond issue to finance the project. The $750,000 estimated cost will include all costs, Hughes said.

Members of the Authority are, in addition to Hughes, Kendall Marsh, vice president; Jack Kerlin, secretary; Frank Stackhouse, treasurer and Henry Tucker, member. William Curnow is the manager of the water company.

Nation's Security Must Be Safeguarded

The U. S. Supreme Court has bent over backwards again in cases involving accused American Communists. Unless nullified, the decisions can serve only to give aid and comfort to the Red conspiracy and imperil the security of this country.

We are pleased no end, therefore, to read that this district's congressman, Francis E. Walter, is one of the first to sound the tocsin as a warning of the dangers involved.

Rep. Walter is chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, one of a number of congressional investigating groups whose powers will be severely curtailed—and possibly crippled—by the court's ruling.

Walter's oblique criticism of the decision was in effect a challenge to the legislative branch of the Federal Government. Declared Walter: "This invasion of the legislative field requires Congress to assert its authority in the field."

The congressman was thinking mainly of the high court reversing the conviction of John T. Watkins of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions about past Communist associations.

The 6-1 decision is aimed to insure to witnesses before congressional committees the First Amendment guarantees of freedom of speech, assembly and the press.

Opinions of Other Editors

Profit Angle Shouldn't Dictate Policy

A pat argument used by members of Congress opposed to billboard controls is that only esthetes—or, as one senator so nobly puts it, "ass-thetes"—are concerned about turning the new 41,000 miles of federal highway into a garish jungle of billboards and neon-lit dog eateries.

Yet among the chief opponents of unregulated billboards are highway engineers—hardly known as an arty-arty group—who rightly point to certain safety hazards posed by confusing signs on a speedway.

We further suspect that many a motorist whose closest approach to the fine arts is watching a wrestling match will take loud offense if he sees more soapflake placards than sunsets on his first vacation

George Sokolsky Says...

Girard Becomes International Figure Because Of Efforts To Placate Japan

What makes the government of the United States different from the government of Soviet Russia? Surely it is not that like Eisenhower has a more attractive personality than Nikita Khrushchev, or that Sherman Adams is more attractive than Bulganin.

These people disappear in the sands of time. Were that all, it would soon enough be discovered that difference in personality are the froth of history.

The essential difference between the two governments lies in the Constitution of the United States and the vast body of judicial decisions which implement and strengthen the Constitution.

In the case of the soldier, Girard, the Constitution has been circumvented and the liberty and life of a citizen are in jeopardy because officials have dared to move beyond the strict limitations of the Constitution into the risky realm of improvisation.

If a young soldier can be thrown to the dogs to satisfy political policy, anything can happen to satisfy policy.

For instance, the story now goes the rounds, the truth of which I obviously have no means of checking, that after Dr. Herbert Norman committed suicide, an agency of our government had a report that the reason for the suicide was that Norman had become aware that the Canadian government was planning to appoint a Royal Commission to study his activities and that such a study would involve between 60 and 70 Americans and Canadians who in one manner or another had been engaged in similar activities.

Try and Stop Me

Steve Allen is compiling a list of ridiculous statements that he hears over and over again. A few near the top: "Women with red hair have the most violent tempers"; "Fish is a brain food"; "The murderer always returns to the scene of the crime"; and "Gentlemen prefer blondes." Any additions of your own you'd like to make?

A forthright gent is Wall Street John Straley. A broker met him and asked, "Say, have I told you about the stunt my grandson pulled on me last week?" "No, you haven't," replied Straley quickly, "and thank you very much."

A sophisticated young author, on publication of her first novel, told a reporter, "I was educated during my vacations from finishing school."

Heard about the Scottish wolf? He lured a girl up to his Edinburgh penthouse to see his etchings—and sold her two of them.

It will apply not only to investigations of Communists and other subversives, but to all congressional probes such as the recent hearings involving Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president.

The immediate effect of the decision may be to reverse contempt of Congress convictions of more than a dozen others who, as witnesses, cited the First rather than the Fifth Amendment, which guarantees against self-incrimination.

The long-range effect will have a much greater impact, however, in that the hands of congressional investigators will be tied in the future. This is a serious matter, indeed, inasmuch as any number of criminals, racketeers and subversives appear somehow to get around the law, making it difficult for police investigators to prosecute them.

Many of the lawbreakers have been put behind jail bars, where they belong, only through the initiative of congressional committees and their investigators. Let's not destroy this vital function of Congress.

The high court should continue administering justice as defined by the Constitution and the laws of the land. But it should stick to its job without treading on the rights of the other two branches of government—legislative and executive. The security of the United States must be safeguarded at all costs.

tour on the new highways.

Yet the sensible billboard bill proposed by Senators Neuberger and Gore is presently buried in the Senate Public Works Committee.

This bill would provide an additional three-fourths of 1 per cent in federal highway funds to states agreeing to meet certain roadside standards. Participation is optional, hence it is hard to see how any objections based on the state's rights can be raised.

The most vigorous opposition to this moderate measure comes from the groups who stand to profit by plastering the new highways with their advertising.

—Washington Post

There can be no question but that relations between the United States and Canada took an unpleasant turn over the Norman suicide. If the report indicated above is true, and my sources are first rate, surely the people of both countries should have been told about it, so that their response to the challenge of this suicide did not lead to untoward circumstances. Who was entitled by law or by sound judgment to suppress whatever data in this report is absolutely correct? It would seem to me an unjustified extension of executive power.

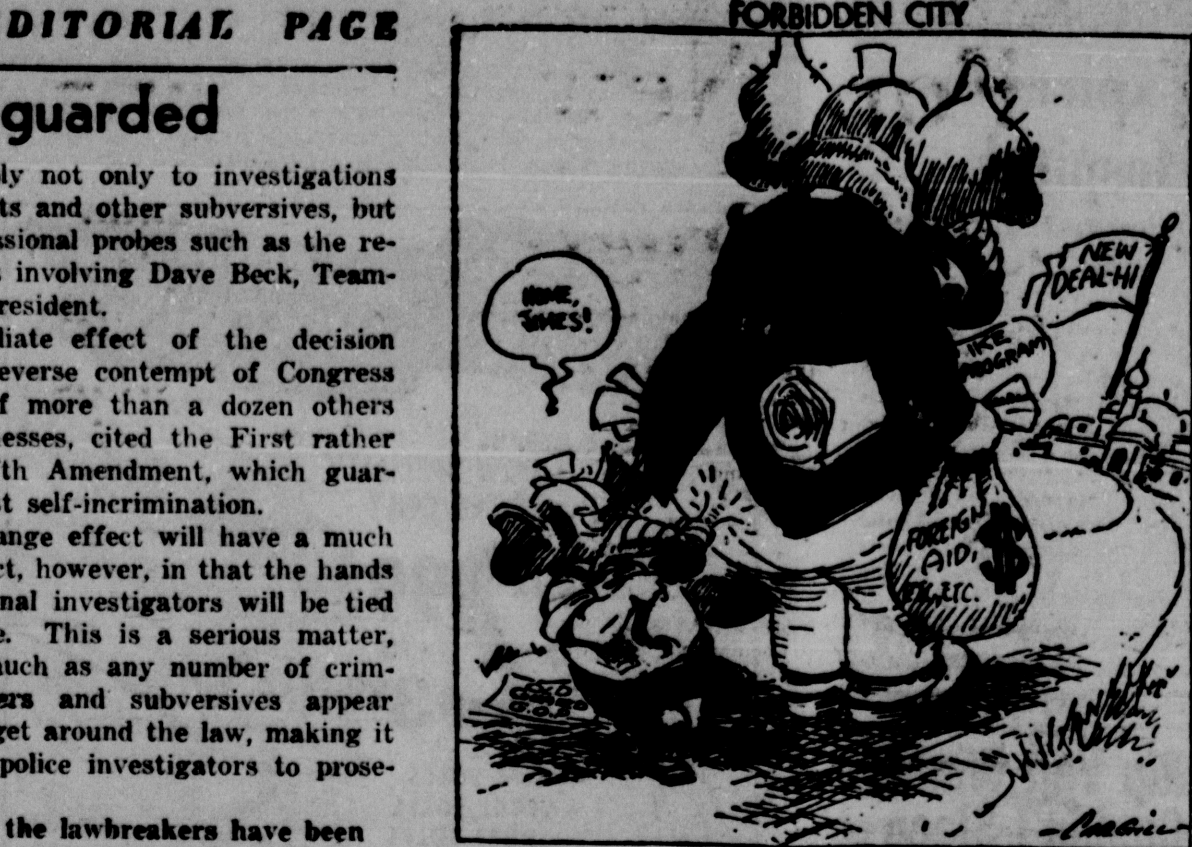

In the Girard case, the Status of Forces Treaty—a NATO treaty—cannot be made to apply at all because Japan is not a member of NATO and when the Senate ratified the treaty it stated a reservation that its principles cannot be extended elsewhere. But it has been made to apply by various executive devices which should not have been pursued were the Constitution binding upon the bureaucrats in Washington who while denouncing dictatorship and Fascism, seem to take on the characteristics of both.

It might be called the Potomac Disease because it happens to the hired help of each Administration, whether Democratic or Republican. The Republicans devoted themselves from 1933 to 1952 to a denunciation of the Democrats for their misbehavior under the effects of this fever, but once they came into office, they acted like Democrats unashamedly.

Now no one can tell the difference between the breeds of cats and only hope that ultimately everything will work out all right, as it generally does in history which is the record of the rise and fall of nations—some rise and some fall.

The Girard case is a straw in the wind, to use an ancient fable.

Sensitivity About Age Creates Own Problem

By Anne Heywood
As we get older, we tend to be more sensitive to rebuffs, real or imagined, than we were in our youth. This is all right, provided we face the fact that it's true, try to allow for it in our daily life. Subconsciously, we feel less capable, less smart, less attractive than we were, so we tend to read into other people's remarks some perfectly nonexistent slurs.

Mrs. A., just turned sixty, has just resigned from her club in a huff because the program chairman as good as told her she was too old to handle a tea party for new members.

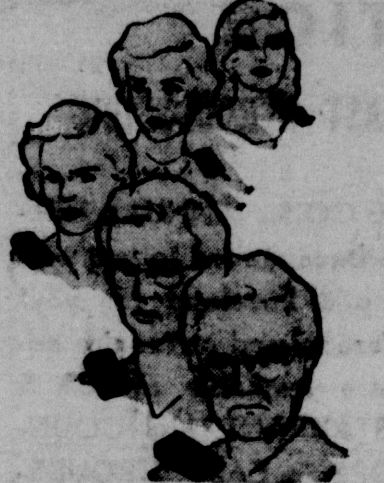

Mrs. L., in her late fifties, is beginning to be positive the girls in the office are talking about her. Mr. J. is being treated badly by all the employment agencies—he's sure it's just prejudice.

All of these people are suffering from the sensitivity which accompanies age. A little correspondence with each of them shows this quite conclusively.

Mrs. A. realizes, now, that the program chairman didn't really consider her a fossil. It was one of those days. The program chairman had taken a good deal of guff from the president. A speaker had failed to show up. Mrs. A. got the benefit of the program chairman's temporary bad humor. Because of her sensitivity, at being nearly sixty, Mrs. A. took it for granted that the program chairman considered her too old.

Retirement Problem
Miss L. is facing retirement—her firm retires people at sixty. She's worried about how she'll make out with a small pension and nothing to do. That's why she's sensitive and dreamed up the whispering behind her back. Now that we have Miss L. planning a realistic retirement program, whispering has stopped! Mr. J. has a tougher problem. He's in his fifties, unemployed and a "great many firms won't hire him. There are still a few who will. Mr. J. has decided to concentrate his efforts on the smaller, more open-minded firms.

The Older They Grow, The Bigger The Shoulder Chip.

New Approach
Also, he's trying a new approach on the employment agencies. Instead of going in with a chip on his shoulder, a conviction that probably they'll think he's too old, he's going in with a cheerful, hopeful and relaxed air.

It took a little doing, at first, but he's getting more interviews now with prospective employers. He realizes nobody was prejudiced against him—they were just prejudiced about his manners!

The Once Over

Baseball and The Bigger Audience
Why all the fines and criticism over fights on big league baseball fields? The battles are an act, we suspect, in

The appeal of twisting a dial and seeing these three popular airwave features blended into the national game could be terrific. If these baseball diamond scraps in any way followed the traditional pattern, with the fight rules observed as in the old days, we wouldn't be suspicious. But the 1957 diamond hassle is suddenly embracing all the knock-down-and-drag-out features of a movie western, riotous razzle-dazzle and Wednesday night fight preliminaries. When ballplayers clash today they use everything but the gambling room chairs, barroom cuspidors, hanging lamps, and Bowie knives. You have a feeling that before the umpires restore peace, a relief pitcher will ride into action on a cow-pony.

No element of true sportsmanship enters into the ruckus. The players specialize in flying tackles, attack from the rear, and the high fidelity low-punch. Any experienced legitimate fighter in the boxing business would be suspended for at least a year for such infractions of the list rules. Only in current wrestling programs is such a routine of disorderly conduct, violating all the regulations, encouraged, glorified and cheered. Astounding as it may seem to fair-play people, there is a terrific TV audience for modern razzle-dazzle programs in which every element of decency, sportsmanship and proper human relationship is busted wide open. And it is possible that big-league baseball is going all-out to win this curious audience which howls with delight when one contestant kicks the other in the stomach grinds a foot into the face, hurls him out of the ring and jumps on a man when he is down.

The other night we saw a wrestling program on TV in which one man grabbed a strand of rope, whipped it around the other fat man's neck and tried to strangle him to wild applause. Yes, we know that in modern wrestling as a TV show much of the action is faked, carefully rehearsed and purposely given a burlesque element. But there is something queer about an audience that can find fun in a complete mockery of fair play. Nevertheless it is a big audience and it may be ready to go over to big-league baseball if baseball is revised for TV over-all coverage. To your corners, baseball men! And come out shooting!

Robert S. Allen Reports

Army Leading Air Force In Missiles Development

Washington, June 19—So far the Army is way out in front of the Air Force in their tense rivalry over development of guided missiles.

The score is: Army—3 successful tests; Air Force—1 partial success.

That tally is based on five trial firings by each service since last September. All the Army's tests were of Jupiters, its 1500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile. Four of the Air Force's tests were of Thor, its IRBM; and one the Atlas, the intercontinental ballistic missile with a projected range of 5,000 miles.

Principal reason for the Army's big lead is the impressive superiority of its "guidance system."

This Army achievement is so promising that Defense Secretary Wilson has ordered a special study to ascertain whether the crucial mechanism can be used in the Air Force's imperfect Thor and Atlas.

The Army's latest Jupiter test, early this month, was notable for two reasons:

(1) An actual missile was fired; the four previous tests were of various Jupiter prototypes; (2) a new height record was set, of more than 700 miles into space.

In an earlier test, a Jupiter set a distance record of 3,200 miles.

The best an Air Force Thor has been able to do is a height of approximately seven miles, at a speed five times that of sound.

Vital significance of this record to date is that it means the U. S. is ahead of Russia in guided missiles—general development, but "probably" somewhat behind in certain aspects of the ballistic field.

This is pointedly noted by the House Appropriations Committee, in its report on the multi-billion dollar military budget, as follows:

"In the field of missiles, we are in a nip-and-tuck race with Russia. We are no doubt ahead of the Soviet in the field of guided missiles generally. In the ballistic missile field we are probably behind Russia in the progress made in perfecting the intermediate range ballistic missile. In the intercontinental ballistic missile area, we are probably ahead of the Soviet."

What Happened—For obvious security reasons, few details of the past ten months' highly important missile tests can be reported. But the following can be published regarding these firings, as they occurred in chronological order:

Army—September 1956—Jupiter-C, soared to more than 670 miles, and for a distance of 3,200 miles at a speed 17 times faster than sound. This was not a "controlled flight"; the missile being controlled only in the early part of the test.

Air Force—December 1956—Thor launching a failure due to guidance system trouble.

Air Force—January 1957—

Thor rose few feet, then exploded due to leak in fuel line.

Army—February 1957—Jupiter test unsuccessful, and prototype had to be destroyed by control officer.

Air Force—March 1957—Thor had to be destroyed a few seconds after being fired due to guidance system failure.

Army—March 1957—Jupiter rose 50 miles at a speed 10 times greater than sound, then exploded. This firing is rated a partial success, as the IRBM functioned until it blew up.

Army—April 1957—Jupiter soared several hundred miles, and then had to be destroyed because of malfunctioning of the guidance system. This test is also rated a partial success, as the missile was launched.

Army—June 1957—Actual Jupiter missile and the most successful test to date. The IRBM attained a height of more than 700 miles; a distance of 1,600 miles; speed 17 times that of sound; and was controlled throughout the entire flight.

Air Force—June 1957—Thor got up to 35,000 feet (approximately seven miles), then had to be destroyed because of malfunctioning of guidance system. This test is listed a partial success. It was the best showing so far made by this IRBM.

Air Force—June 1957—Atlas reached 10,000 feet, and then was destroyed by control officer because of guidance system failure. The 90-foot ICBM, with a potential range of 5,000 miles, headed for South America instead of out over the Atlantic.

Note: The Army is so far advanced in guided missiles development that it could launch an earth satellite in a short time if allowed to do so—according to Rep. Dan Flood (Pa.), of the House Military Appropriations Subcommittee. He claims the Army is greatly ahead of both the Air Force and Navy in this all-important weapons field. Defense Secretary Wilson put the earth satellite project under joint direction of the Air Force and Navy.

Letters To The Editor

Mr. John F. Hill,
Editor, The Record,
Dear Mr. Hill:

There were a lot of State officials and others thanked by the Motor Club for their aid in promoting the Keystone Shortway and securing its approval for federal aid, and that is as it should be, but I know I am speaking for the Motor Club when I say that the Daily Record has untiringly supported that project, and coordinated the work of many others. I want to thank, in behalf of the Motor Club, your newspaper for its continued support of the Keystone Shortway.

I know that your General Manager, Horace Heller, and yourself, both have loyally supported this great project.

June Busy Month For Our Mike

By Jim Riley

Mike Bowman, a member of the Daily Record force, turned into a grandfather and an uncle both in less than a month. His son, Graydon Howard, became a father early this month when his wife gave birth to a nine-pound five-ounce baby boy in a Flittington.

Mass., where Graydon and his family now live. The baby was named Jeffrey Howard and both son and mother are doing well.

On Monday of this week, Mike's brother, Charles Bowman, a foreman at Hughes Printing Co. bindery, and his wife became the parents of a six-pound, five-ounce baby girl. So Mike no sooner finished taking bows for the grandparenthood than he started right in as an uncle. Congratulations to Mike and all parties concerned.

Graydon, incidentally, used to work for Line Material when he was here before serving with the Army. He is now employed by Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Earle B. Wincheste, former general manager of Hughes Printing Co., has retired as co-owner of the W. S. Brown Co. plant, Richmond, Va.

Earle, and his wife Jane, will spend their Summer shuttling from Florida to Monmouth, N. J., Lake George, N. Y., and return to Florida late in July.

Jane will be remembered as one of the leading members of the Shawnee Women's Golf Assn.

Kris Kelleher, Tannersville, recently spent several days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Alger, Hudson, Mich. Kris will be a senior when she returns to classes at Pocono High School next September.

Mrs. Ida Gilbert, former resident of the Bushkill section, is visiting friends in that area at the present time.

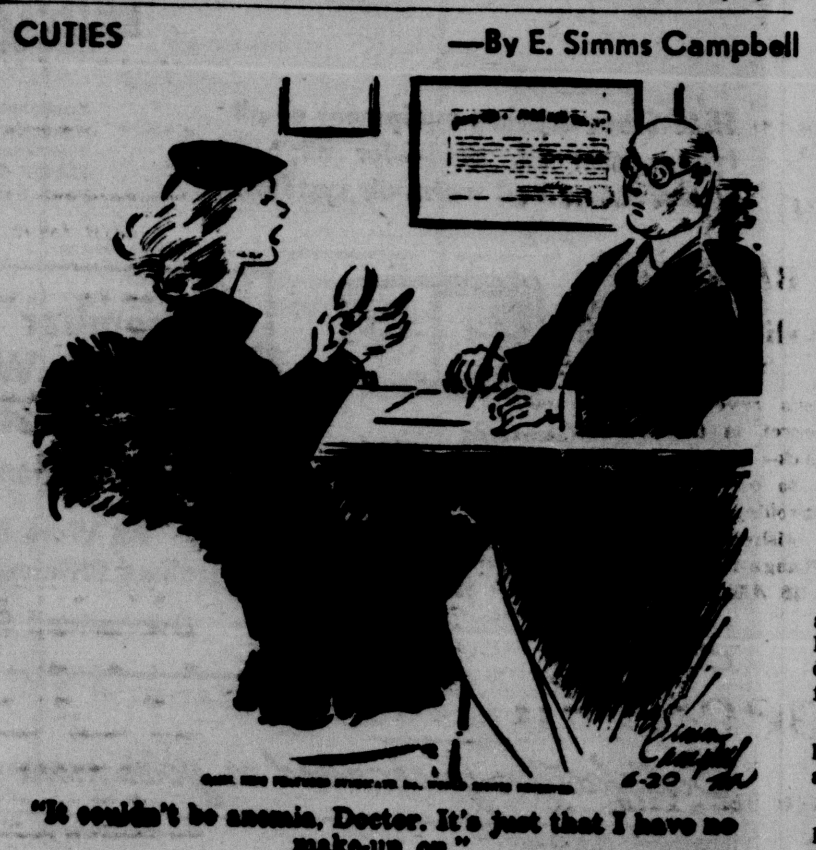

Mrs. Gilbert is a guest at the home of Miss Helen Cook.

Al Schmidt, well known man about Monroe County, is reportedly making a fine recovery at the Hamburg State Hospital.

Frank McNamara and Stanley Siproth, also very well known in this neck of the woods, report that Al weighs more now than he has at anytime in recent years.

McNamara and Siproth recently visited with Al. Captain Walter Smiley, native of Stroudsburg, recently flew a constellation from New York to London non-stop in 12 hours. The plane carried 74 passengers and a crew of eight.

Smiley has been flying for 25 years. The 12-hour trip included the by-passing of Gander, Newfoundland, where virtually every trans-Atlantic plane refuels.

PUC Hearing Scheduled For New Bridges Over Railroad

Commissioners Notified Of July 12 Date

A PUBLIC Utilities Commission hearing on bridges which may form a part of The Stroudsburg Thruway will be held July 12.

According to notice received yesterday by Monroe County Commissioners the hearing is slated for that date at 10 a.m. in the County Court House in Stroudsburg.

Concerned in the hearing will be proposed bridges on State Highways 166 and 794. The three structures involved would pass over Lackawanna Railroad Tracks in Smithfield Township and East Stroudsburg borough.

This is the only phase of the Thruway planning with which the PUC is concerned, since construction of the bridges involved passing over railroad property.

Three separate notices were sent by the PUC to commissioners. The first pertains to the "abolition" of the crossing at grade, where State Highway 166 crosses the DL and W railroad tracks and the construction of a crossing at grade in lieu thereof where the same highway, relocated, as proposed, will cross the same tracks . . . about 2,000 feet southeastwardly, all in Smithfield township and the allocation of costs and expenses incident thereto.

The present bridge referred to in the first notice is apparently Tinkertown Crossing.

A second notice of the hearing says that it is to be held for approval of construction of a crossing where State Highway 794 will cross above the two tracks of the DL and W in East Stroudsburg Borough.

The third notice concerns approval of a bridge where S.H. 794 will cross above the grade of the DL and W tracks where the track crosses Broadheads Creek in Smithfield township.

Tamiment Opens Music Festival

TAMIMENT The annual Tamiment Music Festival opens tonight at 9 on the grounds of the beautiful adult resort high in the Pocono Mountains.

Tonight's program will be devoted entirely to the talents of the Curtis String Quartet. The Quartet will be heard in three selections by Arriaga, Quincy Porter and Mendelssohn.

Immigrants To Aid Israeli Progress

By Paul Carlson
A HIGH Israel Army officer disclosed last night that many of the Jews now coming to Israel from Russia are intellectuals who will greatly aid in the building of the young nation.

Col. Itzhak Pundak, former commander of the Israeli Armored Forces, made the disclosure in a speech delivered at a dinner at Davidukes in Marshalls Creek, which set off the 1957 United Jewish Appeal drive in Monroe County.

Drive Chairman Sam Block announced after the meeting that 33 percent of the county's $10,000 goal has already been given or pledged. The local Jewish community hopes to raise $5,000 for the regular UJA fund, and an equal amount for special emergency rescue fund to help other Jews enter Israel.

Admittance of intellectuals is desperately needed in Israel as it seeks to grow, he continued. In previous migrations, unlearned Jews from Yemen, Egypt, Morocco and Tunis were admitted to the new Jewish homeland.

Col. Pundak pointed out that as additional Jews enter the country there is an ever-increasing need for new housing and job opportunities.

"We want 100,000 more Jews in 1957, and more in 1958," he said.

The Army officer noted that as the population grows, many of the new nation's problems will diminish. He pointed out that border fights will decrease as Israel's Arab neighbors recognize that she is becoming a very important country in the Middle East.

At the outset Col. Pundak reported that "a new type" of Israeli man has evolved since the War of Independence in 1948.

Pointing out that Israeli men aren't any more brave than anyone else, the colonel remarked: "When you cut our flesh you see the same blood. It is red."

"In the beginning, everyday there was a new battle," he continued. "And every day we were afraid."

"You can't be brave and a hero all of your life," he said. "You can only be brave for one battle and for one night."

Instead of bravery, he maintained, there has been something greater behind Israel's success in nationhood.

Likening America to Israel's "other partner," Col. Pundak remarked: "Israel is one partner, and without the other we would not have been able to do anything."

He noted that in May 1954, following independence, Israel's population was 600,000. Since then, it has grown to 1,800,000.

In the nine succeeding years, "a new generation" has grown up, he reported. Pilots, plane crews, and officers have been trained in this short period.

But as the country continues to grow, there is a need for more people and more money, he said.

"We have shed our blood to provide a home for thousands of Jews," said Col. Pundak as he appealed to the local Jewish community to support the present UJA drive.

In addition to its regular campaign, UJA is seeking to raise an additional $100-million to bring 100,000 new immigrants to Israel this year.

Commissioners Adopt New Tax Equalization Program

never "shall give periodic supervision to the mapping phase." Local county residents may be employed in some capacities but are not eligible for actual appraisal work. The county supplies office space.

The county agrees to supply the successful bidder with material previously compiled during work on the project up to Dec. 21, 1955. Two previous firms have worked on the program: John Aicher in 1953-54-55 and J. L. Jacobs Co. in 1955. The Jacobs Co. contract was terminated "without cause" by county commissioners Amzi Altomose and Rake, then majority members of the county board, after the 1955 political campaign and election in which Altomose was defeated.

Former methods of mapping and recording of information through property records cards is to be adhered to by the company which is required to provide "microfilm records" to the county of all property record cards after the review period.

Mapping, reappraisal and revaluation of each property at "actual value" is to be made by the company but it is subject to the approval and review of the board of assessment and revision of taxes and the chief assessor.

The county reserves the "right of cancellation" either with or without cause.

Under the specifications pertaining to appraisal of land and improvements, the papers detail procedures to be used by the contracting firm.

The company will be required to prepare Monroe County Real Property Assessment Manual and is to instruct the chief assessor and selected personnel on his staff in the use of the manual.

Article nine of the specifications says: "At the conclusion of the work, if the county chooses, informal meetings between taxpayers and company representatives will be arranged in order that taxpayers may see and discuss valuations and methods. Large property holders may be heard by appointment if so desired." The period covers a maximum of 20 work days.

Appeals

In the event of assessment appeal hearings, the contract would specify that a member of the company field staff be present for a period not to exceed 30 days to assist in settlement of complaints and to defend values placed on properties. The company would be required to provide a witness in case of court hearings without added cost to the county if the appeal is begun within one year after completion of the project.

The contract will also call for a complete public relations program to be carried out jointly by both parties. One section of Article 10 states that "newspaper articles or other publicity shall be presented to the county for clearance before release." The company is to make available suitable speakers when officially requested to acquaint group gatherings with the nature of the project, the specifications indicate.

The county also is asking bidders to submit alternate estimates on continued maintenance on a part-time basis of the tax mapping phase for one or two years after the new program is in effect. Under terms of the articles included, the county reserves the right to reject all bids or award the contract to the "lowest, responsible bidder."

Senate Votes Membership

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—The Senate tonight approved U.S. membership in the 80-nation International Atomic Energy Agency—an outgrowth of President Eisenhower's 1953 "atoms-for-peace" proposal.

Housekeeper Pushed Down Rectory Steps

TOBYHANNA — Mount Pocono State Police are continuing their search for a man who pushed a housekeeper down a flight of stairs at St. Ann's Roman Catholic rectory on Monday.

Troopers reported that Miss Catherine Flaherty, 38, was momentarily knocked unconscious. When she revived, her assailant was gone.

Cellar

State Police quoted the woman as saying she was working in the cellar about 6 p.m., Monday, when she heard the back door close. Upon investigating, she found a thin man with brown hair in his late 30s. The man asked if any priest or the cook were at home. She told him she was alone.

Turning to go back into the cellar, troopers said, the intruder pushed the woman down the steps. The rectory had not been disturbed and nothing was missing, troopers reported.

Police Arrest Pair For Thefts Reported In Bangor

BANGOR — A former Stroudsburg juvenile presently living in Bangor and Earl Shoemaker, 22, of Meyers Crossing, were arrested on Wednesday according to a report last night by Bangor Chief of Police Glenwood P. Lewis, who in company with officer Russell Yahraes, took the offenders into custody.

Both have confessed to a series of thefts during the past month according to Bangor police. The duo reportedly stole six auto batteries and six car radiators from John Linsherry of Washington St., Bangor, on the night of June 12 and 17.

They confessed to stealing copper tubing from Bangor Ideal Slate Co. on the night of June 5. The juvenile also confessed to stealing copper wire from Metropolitan Edison Co. grounds in Bangor and watermelon from the Blue Valley Fruit Market between Bangor and Pen Argyl during the past few weeks.

The juvenile is being held by police for a hearing before county probation officer William Kinney in Easton on Friday morning. Shoemaker was released on $300 bail to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace Raymond Traves, Bangor. No date has been set.

The boy is 17 years old. His family now lives in Bangor but lived until recently in Stroudsburg.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

There was a tendency yesterday afternoon to stand around like chickens—wings spread wide and beak open to catch the full benefit of that heavenly breeze. And then, all of a sudden, you realized that you didn't need to—that you were perfectly comfortable for the first time in a week.

Maybe all the panting and perspiring was worth it just to bring us to the realization that we were comfortable last night. Sure we've been comfortable before but if you don't realize it you can't appreciate it.

Comfort is much like happiness in that respect—in the midst of unhappiness we look back and think how happy we were before—or if we're optimists, perhaps we look forward to some future happiness. But it's a very rare moment when you take a deep breath and let the flood tide of feeling flow over you and think, "My, I'm happy. Right now and right here I'm happy."

Which is a pity, in a way. We know perfectly well when we're hungry, or too hot, or too cold or full of aches and pains and are perfectly oblivious when we're well-fed, well-adjusted and healthy.

Let's just hope we all stay that way, oblivious or not, and that the weather holds that pose long enough for the Laurel Tournament at Glen Brook, the Rose Tea for the Garden Club and all the picnics planned for today.

The Wilson Lees Celebrate 53rd Anniversary

Carole Hilyard Holds First Scholarship Given By Federated Woman's Clubs Of Co.

Along with the first college scholarship to be awarded by the Monroe County Federation of Woman's Clubs goes the personal interest of the more than 400 members in its recipient, Miss Carole Hilyard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hilyard of 416 North Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

The Monroe County Federation voted to establish the scholarship to East Stroudsburg State Teachers College to a graduate of the county's high schools interested in becoming a teacher, and each of the member clubs contributed to the fund. It is a non-competitive scholarship, awarded on the basis of interest and need, with the selection made by an impartial committee. It carries with it a grant of $150 a year which will be renewed if the student's work at the college is of passing caliber.

In addition, as Mrs. John Sibley, East Stroudsburg, who is also state chairman of scholarship, said that the clubwomen have also pledged their personal interest in the student's progress in college as well as the monetary grant.

Active at E.S.H.S.

Miss Hilyard, the first scholarship student, is a June graduate of Stroudsburg high school, where she was a member of the National Honor Society; president of the Girls' Council, and the Tri-Hi-Y; secretary of the girls' chorus; vice president of the senior class; and a member of the girls' ensemble and the girls intramural athletic program.

Her interests include singing, playing the piano and clarinet. She is working this summer at the Bell Telephone Co. as an operator.

Why Teaching

One of the determining factors in the selection of the scholarship winner was a letter in which the applicant outlined the theme "Why I Chose Teaching as My Profession".

Her letter, in part, was as follows:

"School with all its activities has always been the most enjoyable part of my life. As early as the elementary grades I always had the utmost respect for all my teachers and appreciated the required efforts needed to be a good teacher. I believe that this was the beginning of my desire to choose teaching as my profession.

"When I finished the elementary grades and entered Junior High School, it was even more interesting to me. By this time I had the opportunity to take several jobs caring for children. This appealed to me because it proved that I loved to be with children. I enjoyed helping them and teaching them. For three summers I had the pleasant job of teaching Bible School. I thought this was very much like our regular school routine. We had our work to do and as each term closed it gave me a feeling of accomplishment.

"It is only human nature that we put our confidence and love in those people who act and show us that they are interested in how we live, what we do, and whether we are happy or not. I think our teachers today do so much in connection with all these things that I too would like to be able to help teach and guide others.

"I chose teaching as my life's work because, first of all, when we choose the way in which we are going to earn our livelihood, it should not only be chosen with the thought of financial gain but also what we ourselves gain from it as a good citizen — always willing to help others."

Coaches' Responsibility Cited

Emphasized By Miller At Clinic

"COACHES have a grave responsibility," Rip Miller, assistant athletic director at the United States Naval Academy told a capacity crowd at the 14th annual banquet of the Eastern Scholastic Coaches Clinic at the Penn Stroud Hotel last night.

"You coaches in college and high school counsel and guide boys down the trail to a better life, hereby giving this great nation of ours an extra step forward in the molding of youth," Miller informed the 181 attendees.

Miller, one of the Seven Mules during the Four Horsemen Days of the late Knute Rockne, also cited the great coaches of the past—Pop Warner, Fielding Yost, and Rockne—in starting the foundation that helped to set up ideas now put in force by the modern day mentor.

Competition

"Competitive sports is the one thing this country has that no other nation can boast of," Miller noted. "In sports there is no shortcuts, no fringe benefits. It is all sacrifice and strictly a case of a coach doing the job," he said.

"Where in this world can you find such a system, when one man or a group of men holds the key to a boy's future," Miller went on. "You fellows are more than just guides of youth but the leader who is idolized despite practically unheard of sacrifices you ask of these lads."

"Rip" Miller

"Sports in one spot where creed and nationality is not a barrier," he continued. "You put on the field or court the best team regardless of what church or what nationality a boy is," he said.

Miller got a standing ovation after concluding his remarks.

Toastmaster

Marty Baldwin, clinic director, was the toastmaster and offered several humorous stories on individuals attending the event.

He introduced the following college coaches attending the four-day classic in the capacity of "students." They were Fred Bold, St. Mary's University, Halifax, Canada; Bob Blackburn, Dartmouth; Rocco Calvo, Moravian; Bob Cullen, Cornell; Ted Dalley, Syracuse; Bill Laid and Sammy Perkins, Bainbridge Naval Station; Jack Cloud, Norfolk Navy Base; Dave Evanson, Vic Fusia and Bob Timmons, Pittsburgh; Lefty James, Cornell; Bob Harrison, Florida State; Eugene Martin and Dr. George Ockershausen, East Stroudsburg Teachers; Joe Stanczyk and John Steigman, Rutgers; Ted Thoren, Cornell; Bob Putella and Whitey Heil, Susquehanna; John Platt and Vince O'Connell, Port Monmouth; Tom Smith, Indiana State Teachers; Harry Litwack, Temple; Jack Prendergast, Yale; Bob Davies, former basketball coach at Gettysburg.

Short Talks

Short talks were given by Al Erdosy, Northampton High; Coviello, Memorial High, West New York, N. J.; Ed Zanfrini, Princeton; Clair Bee, New York Military Academy; Bowden Wyatt, Tennessee; Floyd (Ben) Schwartzwalder, Syracuse; and J. Birney Crum, Muhlenberg.

Also introduced were Jim Riley, Bob Clark and Jack Hill, of The Daily Record, and George Graff, well known local sportsman.

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

DENVER, June 19 (AP)—Lightweight champion Joe Brown successfully defended his title tonight in Denver's Coliseum with a 15th-round technical knockout of Cuba's Orlando Zulueta.

The jolting champion blasted the tough little Cuban to a nine count in the 13th, then got to him again in the 15th. Orlando hit the deck for nine, and when he got up groggy, Referee Ray Keech stopped the fight.

A crowd of police estimated at more than 3,000 in the big, 11,000-seat arena booed loudly when Keech halted the battle. But to ringsiders there was no doubt it was all over.

Zulueta made it clear that a left hand isn't always enough. He stabbed Brown frequently and in the 10th opened a cut over the champion's right eye. Brown, who hails from New Orleans, La., and Houston, Tex., bided his time. And when he saw his spot he boomed in with a load of right and left hooks that was too much for the Cuban to bear.

Brown weighed 134½ and the challenger 133½.

Zulueta came in the ring an unofficial 8-5 underdog but he soon changed the situation with a left hand that flicked out like an angry rattler. Brown seemed puzzled at the Cuban's early swarming tactics but stuck with his plod-and-punch routine which pays off when he lands the big one.

Zulueta hit Brown with his right frequently in the early rounds but it lacked the necessary power and Brown shrugged them off.

Cards Win Doubleheader, Move Within Half-Game

ST. LOUIS, June 19 (AP)—The hot St. Louis Cardinals, blending the long ball with strong pitching, moved within a half game of first place tonight with a two-night doubleheader sweep over Pittsburgh, 5-2 and 5-1.

Del Ennis and pinch batter Joe Cunningham struck two-run homers in the opener and Stan Musial homered as young Lindy McDaniel won the second game.

Victim of a three-run seventh inning rally in the first game was Ronnie Kline, Pirate righthander who suffered his 10th defeat against two victories. The game had developed into a duel between Jones and Kline after both teams scored twice in the first inning.

Single

Wally Moon singled to lead off the seventh and Landrith doubled past Frank Thomas in left to score Moon. Cunningham, batting for bonus shortstop, Dick Schofield, then hit his third homer, a smash to the rightfield pavilion roof.

The Pirates reached Jones for two walks and three singles good for two first inning runs, batted in by Gene Baker and Bill Maze-roski.

Stan Musial doubled with two down in the first, extending his hitting streak to 18 games, and Ennis followed with a long drive to the right-centerfield pavilion roof, tying the score.

Pittsburgh's Dee Fondy was knocked out of the line-up by a thrown ball which struck his left eye in pre-game practice. He suffered a hemorrhage of the left eye and broken nose and will be out of action an indefinite time, physicians said. He now has only partial vision from the eye.

Al Dark, veteran Cardinal shortstop, missed the game with a twisted knee suffered last night.

Glass Scores Three In Sixth To Triumph, 8-7

A GAME which seemed safely won going into the last of the sixth inning turned into a loss for Penn-Strouds as Stout's Glass scored a trio to win, 8-7.

The clutch victory enabled Stouts to climb into a second place tie with their vanquished adversaries, both teams having won four of seven encounters in the Stroudsburg Little League.

The Hotelmen seemed certain to climb to within a game of league-leading VFW as they broke off to leads of 5-1 and 7-2. However, the Glassmen tallied three in the bottom of the fourth to edge up to a 7-5 deficit.

In the last of the sixth, a double by John Muller knocked in the winning runs with none out. Grover, who had held the Stroud team fairly much in check for the first half of the game, tired in the last frame to load the bases.

Bank Beats Methodists, Takes Undisputed Second

THE EAST Stroudsburg National Bank edged to within a half-game of first place with a 7-3 win over Methodists Church last night at the Eastburg Little League Park.

The win jumped the Bankers out of second-place tie with their opponents by providing their fourth win in seven games. H-L-H still holds a slim league-lead with a 4-2 mark.

This was a game which never was in doubt. The Tellers scored a pair in each the first and third innings; when the Methodists tallied a lone marker in the top of the fourth, the National Bank roared back with a trio in the fifth to put the game on ice. The pair which the Methodists counted in the top of the last inning fell four short of a tie.

Johnny Eaton's Newest Recordings On Market

EDITOR'S NOTE: Johnny Eaton, East Stroudsburg, has recorded a second album for Columbia Records. He was graduated this month from Princeton; is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Harold Eaton. His first album for Columbia was picked as one of the 10 best jazz works of the past year by The New York Times in its annual music supplement.

By Leonard Randolph

FOR Johnny Eaton fans — and I proudly count myself among the early members of that group — there is good news this week. Columbia Records, an enlightened company with strong ideas about new talent, has just released Eaton's newest album.

It is the second Eaton has done for Columbia and it is one of the finest you'll hear this year, I think. Eaton is in top form as pianist, arranger and leader. And the other members of "The Princetonians" are equally fine.

In present-day American music Eaton and a few other composer-arrangers are creating a new kind of jazz. Long ago when people thought of "jazz" they thought in terms of solid beat and rambling freedom. During the late 40's the pendulum took a sharp swing to combine the jazz idiom, like Pete Rugolo, Kenton, Ralph Burns et al began to combine the jazz idiom, so-called, with the experimentation of Darius Milhaud, Satie and Stravinsky. Many times the cerebral qualities of their music over-balanced and stunted the expressive purity of jazz improvisations.

Eaton represents a decided twist back in the other direction, to me. In his first album there was a tendency, now and then, to lean too far toward Schoenberg's atonalities and there was an almost clinical atmosphere in some of the songs which seemed to deliver technique without jazz emotion.

In his present album—titled "Far Out, Near In"—Eaton has arrived at a musical technique which seems to merit a new term. Something like "chamber jazz" would be good, but it's probably been used before to label a more ostentatious and less meaningful music.

"Far Out, Near In" contains the Eaton Princetonians' interpretation of eight tunes. All but one of them is magnificent and this one — "Quite Early One Morning" — just barely misses the high quality of the others. The remaining seven are "Georgia On My Mind", "Lover Man", "Just Wedding", "The Lamp Is Low", "I've Got Plenty 'o Nuttin'", "Summertime" and "Swat the G-Man," this last one bearing a pun-title which is a favored Eatonism.

My favorite in the group is "Lover Man", a recording which it seems to me, will go down in musical history as one of the most inspired, tenderly restrained and beautiful in modern jazz. Eaton's version is a masterpiece and it is certainly among the best ever made of this tune. Besides Eaton's fine piano there is a long opening section in which Herb Mann's flute carries the melody in a delicate, haunting thread through the improvisations of the piano and Bob Prince on vibes which matches anything I've heard in years. It is controlled music — but the freedom and abandon of jazz is always there, even when the performance is at its most complex.

"Summertime" shows the pianist at a stylistic peak. "Nuttin'" turns into a swingin' ride with a sharp solo on drums by Allen Bergman and some fast-moving hyplay between Eaton's piano and Richard Lincoln's vibes. "Swat" breaks out all over the house with a running cascade of sound and "Just Wedding" gives Eaton his best chance to demonstrate his abilities on his instrument; both are tightly-knit compositions by the man himself and he goes to town. You'll probably find a lot of new things in an old chestnut called "Georgia On My Mind" when you listen to the Princetonians do it. I did. And I liked them all.

It is in the group's performance of "The Lamp Is Low", however, that I think it hits the key which distinguishes Eaton from many other "modern" jazzmen. This is the pop tune made over from Maurice Ravel's "Pavane For A Dead Princess". It hasn't been so close to Ravel in spirit and lyrical beauty since it made the crossing of the Atlantic. There is an excellent adherence to the original in this bit with undertones of "Bolero", that trite and true Ravel stand-by, which have a quietly somber comic effect on the music.

Perhaps Eaton's coming greatness lies in his amazing ability to take a classic tune such as this or a semi-classic, build it into a solid, intricately subtle jazz piece and never sacrifice the original mood or intent of the composition. Certainly this is a rare and beautiful accomplishment and it stands alongside "Lover Man" as the highlight of the second album.

More than any other arranger or combo jazz musician working these days, Johnny Eaton has arrived at a meeting place between the jazz-influenced "serious" composer and the free-wheeling, ride-the-man-down brilliance of old-style jazz.

Johnny Eaton is a gifted man with a perpetual thirst for musical experiment. His extraordinary value in this album is that he never lets you forget he is playing jazz — a music which may be technically astounding but which, for all that, still speaks the language of men in love with the world, not just a corner of it.

Stock Market Suffers Heavy Setbacks

NEW YORK, June 19 (P)—The stock market, in a deceptively quiet way, took its worst losses on average today since the year's biggest break on Feb. 11.

There was no dramatic news to cause stocks to tumble and no strong selling pressure on the list as a whole.

Volume totaled a moderate 2-220,000 shares compared with 2-440,000 yesterday.

The general range of losses among key stocks ran to around 3 points or more. But the averages were torpedoed by such losses as 5 1/2 on Eastman Kodak, 1 1/2 by American Telephone and 3 1/2 by Du Pont.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $2.00 to $132.40 with the industrials down $2.80, the rails down $1.10 and the utilities down 90 cents.

Of 1,174 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 708 to 265. There were 99 new lows for the year and 41 new highs.

American Motors was the most active stock, up 1/2 at 8 1/2, 75,500 shares. Second was Lukens Steel, off 2 1/2 at 11 1/2, 41,400 shares.

Third was Revlon, off 1 1/2 at 28 1/2. Next came Graham Paige, off 1/2 at 1 1/2, and Rhodesian Selection Trust, off 1/2 at 2 1/2.

American Motors was boosted to the top of the list by a series of books amounting to 10,000 shares, 12,000, 7,500 and 17,500 shares, respectively. While Wall Street sources could not pin down the source of the buying immediately, it was surmised by these experts that financier Louis E. Wolfson could be expanding his heavy interest in this firm.

Amont conspicuous losers were Amerasia down 3 1/2, International Business Machines 8 1/2, International Nickel 2 1/2, Phelps Dodge 2 1/2, Kennecott Copper 1 1/2, U.S. Steel 1 1/2, Illinois Central 1 1/2, Allied Chemical 1 1/2 and Air Reduction 1 1/2.

Chrysler, Goodyear, Johns-Manville, Texas Co. and Santa Fe were among the gainers.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Volume fell to 800,000 shares from 900,000 yesterday. Molybdenum, Stroock, Hazeltine and British Petroleum were among the gainers.

Deadline Near To File For Claims

HARRISBURG, June 19 — Col. William B. Freeland, Deputy Adjutant General for Veterans Affairs in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, stated here yesterday that the deadline for disabled veterans to apply for disability protection is fast approaching and that all eligible veterans should apply before June 30, 1957. If the veteran waits until after that date he may not qualify and may also find that he has lost his rights to social security disability payments at age 50 and rights to old age and survivors insurance payments for himself and his family in the future.

Explanation
Col. Freeland explained that when a veteran becomes disabled and unable to work there is a gap in his social security record that will cause his future social security benefits to be reduced or lost entirely. If he applies to have his record frozen, the gap in his record because of his disability will not count against him in figuring his social security at age 50 or the benefits to his family in case of his death.

Col. Freeland strongly urges all disabled veterans who have not checked on their eligibility for this "freeze" to promptly apply to their local Social Security office for this benefit.

Health Board Reports On Certificates

BANGOR—Matters of routine importance were presented at the regular meeting of the Bangor Board of Health held Tuesday night in the municipal building with Armon M. Williams, president in charge. Evan Owens, health officer, reported on the health certificates required of all food and beverage handlers in the borough, that are presently being received for the period ending in June.

Schedule
As a result of a discussion it was announced that local food and beverage handlers will now only be forced to have a physical examination once each 12 months. However, the board warned all employers in the borough that no person is to be employed by them until the new employee is first examined and proven fit by a local physician to handle food and beverages.

No meetings were scheduled for the months of July and August. The president, however, was empowered to call a special meeting should the need arise. The report of the secretary was presented by John Buzzard.

Area People May Be Eligible For Payments

THE WORKING MAN who had been building old-age and Social Security Act but is now unable to continue work because of a severe and long-lasting disability was reminded yesterday that June 30, 1957, may be a very important date.

The Stroudsburg-Easton District Office stated that because of recent changes in the law, disabled workers 50 to 65 years of age may be eligible for cash payments beginning with the month of July. Those under 50 may qualify to "freeze" their social security earnings records and protect their rights to future payments. All these rights may be lost if not applied for before June 30, 1957.

Applications made before that date can fully cover a long-term disability — one which could have started as long ago as 1941. In addition to other requirements, individuals must have worked at least five years in employment covered by the Social Security Act for the disability provisions to be considered.

Definition
Under the definition of disability in the social security law, a person must be unable to do any substantial work and the disability must be one expected to continue indefinitely. The disability may be either mental or physical. However, an individual with a partial or temporary disability will not qualify. If you believe that you are eligible, you should make application immediately if you have not done so before.

A recent booklet, "If you are Disabled," is now available on request to the Social Security Administration district office located at 204 Northampton Street, Easton, Pa.
